

Pre-induction

Welcome to Applied Psychology

We have some exciting activities planned for the first few weeks of college. You will be able to get involved in a debate, create a website and work with your new friends.

What you can expect

Learn about the different ways in which we explain behaviour

Learn how to interpret people's behaviour from a given scenario

Research a mental disorder of your choice

Learn about the history of Psychopathology

In the meantime, here are some interesting articles and videos for you to read and watch that will help you get ahead.

Watch this Website Design Tutorial

Read this research on the brains of murderers.

How has neuroscience made an impact on the world of advertising?

